

Antelope Valley Woodturners Association

Membership Application

---

The Antelope Valley Woodturners' Association (AVWA) is a group of men and women who have woodturning in common, either professionally or as a hobby. The AVWA is open to anyone who would like to try their hand at turning beautiful items from wood.

AVWA Mission

The AVWA is a chapter of the American Association of Woodturners. Our mission is to provide a meeting place for local woodturners to share ideas, techniques, and to educate the general public regarding the art of wood turning. This is accomplished, in part, with meetings where demonstrations are conducted by AVWA members and guest woodturners.

The AVWA meets at 9:00 a.m., on the third Saturday of odd numbered months. The location of meetings is published in advance, both in our newsletter and on our Web site. Non-members and guests are welcome to attend as observers. For more information, see our web site at:
